This is a general policy draft. Confirm all business details before publishing and obtain legal review for your actual operations.

1. Terms & Conditions

MUETY operates an online shopping platform offering sarees and traditional clothing. By accessing the website or placing an order, you agree to these terms.

Customers must provide accurate contact, delivery and payment information and review product details before ordering.

MUETY may cancel orders for legitimate reasons such as suspected fraud, incorrect pricing or stock unavailability. Payments will be handled in accordance with applicable law.

2. Pricing & Payments

Product prices and applicable charges will be shown before order confirmation. Supported payment methods may include UPI, debit or credit cards, other online methods and COD, where available.

Compulsory charges, including delivery fees and COD charges, must be disclosed before the customer confirms the order. MUETY will never ask for a UPI PIN or card PIN to process an order.

3. Cash on Delivery (COD) — ₹89 Advance

Customers selecting COD must pay an advance confirmation fee of ₹89 before the order is confirmed. The remaining payable amount is collected at delivery.

- The ₹89 charge and its purpose must be displayed clearly at checkout before payment.
- The ₹89 fee is non-refundable for ordinary customer cancellations, refusal to accept delivery or failure to collect the parcel, to the extent permitted by applicable law.
- COD is available only for eligible orders and serviceable locations. MUETY may contact customers to verify orders.
- The non-refundable condition does not apply where a refund is legally required, including when MUETY fails to fulfil an order and the law requires the amount to be returned.

₹89 COD ADVANCE • PAY BEFORE CONFIRMATION • BALANCE DUE AT DELIVERY

4. Return & Refund Policy

MUETY generally does not accept returns or provide refunds for ordinary changes of mind, personal preference, or choosing the wrong colour or design where the listing is accurate. Review the product images, description, price and specifications before purchasing.

Legal exceptions: This policy does not remove rights under applicable consumer protection laws. If a product is defective, damaged, incorrect, materially different from its advertised description, or otherwise qualifies for a remedy under law, contact support with the order number and available supporting evidence. MUETY will investigate and provide the remedy required by law, which may include replacement, return, refund or another appropriate resolution.

If a payment is duplicated, MUETY cancels an order after payment, or an order cannot be fulfilled, any refund required by law will be handled according to the circumstances and applicable requirements.

5. Order Cancellation

Contact MUETY as soon as possible to request cancellation. Orders not yet processed or dispatched may be reviewed. A cancellation request after processing or dispatch may not be accepted where lawful. COD advance fees are governed by Section 3. If MUETY cancels or cannot fulfil an order, payments will be refunded where required by law.

6. Damaged, Defective or Incorrect Products

If your product arrives damaged, defective or incorrect, email support@muety.in as soon as possible with your order number, registered mobile number, description of the issue and photographs or an unedited unpacking video if available. Retain the product and packaging while the issue is reviewed.

Supporting evidence helps the investigation but will not be used to deny a remedy required by law.

7. Shipping & Delivery

MUETY delivers to serviceable locations in India. Delivery estimates may vary by location, courier service, weather and other circumstances. Orders are dispatched after payment confirmation or completion of the required COD confirmation process.

Customers must provide a complete delivery address and valid contact number. Tracking will be provided where available. If an order is delayed or not delivered within the promised timeframe, contact customer support. Rights and remedies remain subject to applicable law.

8. Exchange Policy

MUETY does not offer exchanges for ordinary changes of mind or personal preference. Where an exchange or other remedy is required by law because a product is defective, incorrect or materially inconsistent with its description, MUETY will handle the request in accordance with applicable law.

9. Product Images & Descriptions

We make reasonable efforts to display accurate product images and descriptions. Actual colours may vary slightly due to screen settings, lighting and photography. Minor variations do not necessarily indicate a defect, but this does not exclude remedies for products materially different from their advertised descriptions.

10. Privacy Policy

MUETY may collect your name, contact number, email address, shipping or billing address, order history, transaction status and information needed to provide customer support.

We use this information to process and deliver orders, confirm payments and COD orders, send delivery updates, respond to enquiries, prevent fraud and meet legal obligations.

Information may be shared with authorised payment providers, courier partners and service providers to fulfil orders or comply with law. MUETY does not intend to store full card credentials or security PINs. We take reasonable steps to protect personal information and handle privacy requests in accordance with applicable law.

11. Website Security & Availability

We aim to maintain website availability and security but cannot guarantee uninterrupted access. MUETY may update, suspend or modify features for maintenance, security, stock management or operational reasons. Customers must not interfere with the website, access unauthorised accounts or misuse website content.

12. Intellectual Property

The MUETY name, logo, website design, original text, graphics and other brand materials are protected by applicable intellectual property laws. They may not be copied, reproduced, distributed or commercially used without permission, except where permitted by law.

13. Customer Complaints & Grievance Redressal

Brand: MUETY
Email: support@muety.in Website: https://www.muety.in

Include your order number, contact information and a description of your concern. MUETY will acknowledge and address complaints within timeframes required by applicable law. Where the Consumer Protection (E-Commerce) Rules, 2020 apply, complaints must be acknowledged within 48 hours and redressed within one month of receipt. Customers retain the right to approach the appropriate consumer grievance authority where applicable.

14. Policy Updates

MUETY may update these policies to reflect operational changes or legal requirements. The latest version will be published on the website with an updated effective date. Changes do not remove rights customers are entitled to under applicable law.

15. Governing Law

These terms are governed by the laws of India. Disputes will be handled by competent authorities or courts in accordance with applicable law.
